KENYA Expedition

From Nairobi to the Masai Mara

The Great Migration in Kenya is one of the most spectacular wildlife events on the planet. It involves millions of wildebeests, zebras, and other herbivores moving in search of food and water between the Serengeti National Park in Tanzania and the Maasai Mara National Reserve in Kenya. It typically occurs from July to October, as the animals cross the Mara River, facing obstacles like predators and treacherous currents. It's a breathtaking sight and a must see for any wildlife enthusiast.
